This project supports the Indonesian government in mainstreaming its climate and biodiversity policies into national development planning. To this end, it further develops the capacities of staff of relevant line ministries and strengthens cooperation with civil society and academia. Furthermore, it advises on improving competencies for transparent reporting, financial resource mobilisation and knowledge exchange with the international community.

The 2 components of the project, namely Climate Impact Response and Biodiversity Management Planning (ClimB) and Climate and Biodiversity (Clarity) work closely with the Ministry of Planning and the Ministry of Environment, respectively, and complement each other to support climate and biodiversity actions in Indonesia.

Areas of Work

Mainstreaming Climate and Biodiversity into National Development Planning.

Indonesia Biodiversity Strategy Action Plan (IBSAP)

Indonesia Second NDC (SNDC)
